Dear Miss Loving,

Please excuse the haphazard way I have of writing a letter. All my letter writing is done in snatches on my knee or on the wall.

I wish I had time to tell you how I am getting along in the navy but that would take hours. This I shall say, however, I am (chow call now) continually busy and there is something new every day.

I suppose you desire to know about my self control over my character. I have had little chance to exercise self control but I have not become involved in cheating in any way.

If I had more time I would write more.

Sincerely,

Gordon
